THIRTY LOST WHEN DUTCH LINER SINKS OFF COAST OF JAVA

Ship Takes Sudden and Unexplained List—Lifeboat Struck by Funnel as Vessel Turns Turtle and Goes to the Bottom—Planes Help in Rescue of Survivors

SOURABAYA, Oct. 20 (CP-Havas).—Fourteen Europeans—among them two children—and twenty natives were still missing tonight from the Dutch Royal Packet Company liner Van der Wijck, which mysteriously sank with 287 passengers aboard early today in shark-infested waters between Sourabaya and Samarang.

Planes and ships scoured the seas off the Java coast in the hope of finding some of the missing passengers and crew members. Officials of the line said 287 persons had been rescued.

STAYED WITH SHIP
The captain stayed on the 2533-ton liner's bridge until she keeled over and sank. He was picked up later clinging to a lifebelt.

He said he went to bed at midnight last night and was called fifty-four minutes later by the bridge, from which it was reported the ship was listing to starboard. He summoned all officers and ran on deck with them, but nothing could be done to stop the list, which rapidly grew worse.

A SUDDEN LURCH
The captain then ordered the lifeboats manned. Suddenly the ship lurched heavily to starboard and the captain gave the signal to abandon ship.

The crew successfully lowered one lifeboat but the second was struck Continued on Page 2, Column 5

URGES CLOSER EMPIRE TRADE

Hon. R. B. Bennett Warmly
Welcomed on Visit to Tasmania

HOBART, Tasmania, Oct. 21.—Small communities could contribute their quota of advancement to the Empire and the good of mankind, said Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canadian Conservative leader, said today in acknowledging the hospitality extended to him by Tasmania.

He compared the island state, smallest Commonwealth unit, with Canada's Prince Edward Island, like the Canadian Province, Tasmania had rich resources. Its population of less than a quarter of a million enjoyed prosperous industries in wool, fruit, fisheries and was endowed with great natural scenery. He urged that greater efforts be made to attract tourists.

GUEST OF GOVERNOR
Mr. Bennett was the guest of Governor Sir Ernest Clark at Government House and a luncheon was tendered to him by Premier A. J. O'Leary and Cabinet Ministers. He was also a guest of honor today at a luncheon tendered by the Chamber of Commerce with 100 business men in attendance. He spoke at this gathering in response to a toast to his health.

Development of intense nationalism in some countries made it more necessary to secure reliable markets and stability of trade among the nations of the British Commonwealth of Nations, Mr. Bennett said. Freer exchange of goods and visits by people of the various parts of the British family should be encouraged.

Northwest In Grip of Jack Frost

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20 (AP).—Driving snow and sleet lashed the Northwest with wintry weather today, that counted one death from hazardous traffic conditions.

Dr. E. G. McKeown, fifty-five, well-known Pipestone physician, was killed near that city when his automobile skidded into a tree.

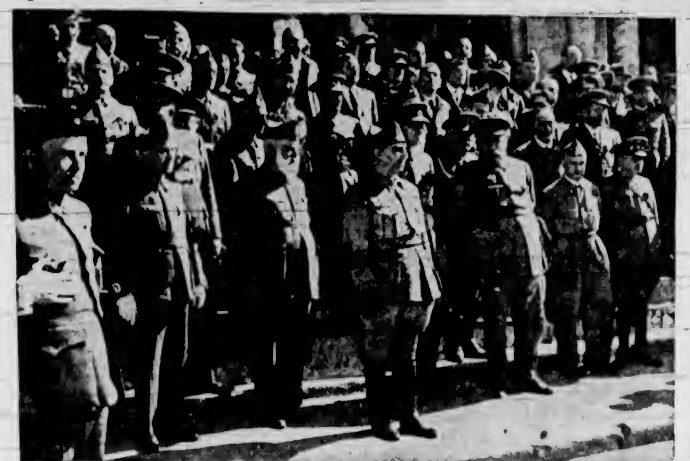

Freezing weather covered much of the Northwest for the first time today, with snow buries in its wake. At Marshall, in southwestern Minnesota, four inches of snow fell.

A snowstorm raged at Lake Preston, S.D., where four inches had already fallen.

Seas Pound Ship in Atlantic

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (AP).—Her boatswain drowned and the second mate held to his bunk with a battered leg, the British steamer Kildale reached Montreal today after battling furious seas in a gale off Belle Isle, October 13.

The boatswain, S. Gehring, of Whitby, England, was swept overboard in the gale that struck the Kildale and several other ships some 200 miles off the Eastern coast, and his companions, powerless to help, saw him bobbing in the rolling seas before he drowned. Seamen told how their skipper, Captain A. J. Gale, put sixteen stitches into the head of Able Seaman D. Thomas, injured during the blow.

Urges Reply From Countries Named

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP).—The Spanish Ambassador to London charged Germany and Italy anew today with meddling in the Spanish civil war to aid the insurgents. His note was handed to the Earl of Plymouth, chairman of the non-intervention committee. It charged that a large number of tanks and 100 flame-throwers were landed at Cadix, Spain, from Italy on October 15.

REPORT SHOWS MUSEUM NEED

Sidney Man Thanked for Volunteer Work Done in Field of Archaeology

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (AP).—Need of greater space and increased staff are emphasized in the annual report for 1935-36 of the National Museum of Canada, issued today.

The report again confirms assertions made for many years by learned bodies, including the Royal Society of Canada, that facilities for the museum's work are inadequate. The Royal Society, Spring appointed a committee to investigate the situation affecting Canadian museums, including the National Institution.

VOLUNTEER WORK
In the report acknowledgment is made of volunteer work done for the museum by private citizens, including two amateur archaeologists, Russell A. Johnston, of Helmsdale, Alta., and Francis J. Barrow, of Sidney, B.C.

For the third successive year, the report says, Mr. Barrow has made a 1,000-mile voyage along the British Columbia Coast, making notes, sketches, photographs and maps of Indian pictographs available to the museum.

Hall at Vancouver
Promptly Put Out

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (AP).—Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, broke out on the fifth floor of the new City Hall tonight, but was quickly extinguished by firemen before it could do any damage. The blaze started among rags and waste left lying on the elevator landing on the fifth floor.

ALL MADRID GOES TO WAR

Workers Pour Into Ranks
Of Militia Urged by Frenzied Women

MADRID, Oct. 20 (AP).—Lashed to martial fury by the shrill exhortations of their womenfolk, Madrid's civilian workers marched to war tonight.

MARCH TO BATTLE
Clumsily but effectively they fell in with units of the regular militia marching off to give battle to the insurgents, whose cannonading could be heard plainly in the streets of Madrid.

Hands that had never held anything more lethal than a saw, or pen clutched rifles shoved at them by women, shouting themselves hoarse in the war hysteria which rolled over the city.

The muster of a city at work rose to a roar today as a sudden shift of wind rolled the reverberations of artillery into the heart of the Government capital.

"COME OUT AND FIGHT!"
People suddenly awoke to the realization that the enemy was almost at the gates. Through the market places the women swarmed. "Come out!" they shouted. "Come out!" and fight for Spain."

Discuss Education, Pensions, Services

ANSWERING a combined plea by British Columbia municipalities for a variety of relief from financial problems, the Provincial Government repeated assurances yesterday that civic difficulties were under close review and definite steps would be taken at the coming session to assist them.

Through the executive of the union, the municipalities proposed various that the Province take over education, remove social service grants, or that former grants paid in 1929-30 be restored. Education, social service costs, superannuation, and other issues were touched upon by a delegation which presented to the Cabinet the text

Urgent Appeal Made for Exchange of Prisoners

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP).—Great Britain tonight offered the use of her fleet to transport hostages from Spain. The Government sent messages to both the Madrid Government and the insurgent high command requesting an early reply to the proposal. The messages expressed fear if "wholesale massacre" of hostages in Spain unless their safety was assured.

Monsters in

Of Ontario

SUDBURY, Ont., Oct. 20 (AP).—Appearance of two monsters described as having "necks like stovepipes" and bodies larger than "ordinary office desks" was reported by Len Savage and Paul Tessler on the return from a fishing trip to a lake thirty miles east of here.

The men noted the churned-up appearance of the lake as they started to paddle across. The monsters appeared and headed toward them, Savage said, but turned aside when the men headed for shore.

IS WAGING WAR ON RACKETEERS

Lawyers and Labor Leaders
Among Fourteen Charged
By New York Jury

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—Fourteen men, including lawyers and labor leaders, were accused by an extraordinary grand jury today of taking over a restaurant racket organized by the late Arthur "Dutch" Schuler, a gangster who was a strong-arm squad.

The indictment, obtained with characteristic suddenness by Special Prosecutor Thomas Dewey, charged conspiracy and embezzlement, with murder in the background.

TWO MURDERS LISTED
At least two murders were listed in the indictment as having occurred during the organization of the racket, which began four years ago.

The indictment charged the defendants conspired to "obtain large sums from restaurants and cafeterias by the wrongful use of force and fear, induced by threats of personal and property injury, by threats to explode bombs in their places of business, and to foment and declare strikes among employees."

Noted Aviator Says Soling
Best Marital Course
For Mollisons

CHILSFIELD, Kent, Oct. 20 (AP).—Mrs. Amy Mollison, the aviator who tonight also and her flying husband, Captain James Mollison, decided soling is the best marital course for each of them.

Mrs. Mollison, holder of long-distance flight records, made her statement after a forced landing here had wrecked her plane and broken her nose.

"I have for the past month heard rumors about Jim and my friendship," she said. "Jim is going his way and I am going mine and I shall fly under my own name as Amy Johnson."

Her husband, she said, is in the United States.

MARRIED FOUR YEARS AGO
Amy Johnson was married to James A. Mollison in England, July 29, 1932. Each is a noted long-distance flyer.

In July, 1933, Mr. and Mrs. Mollison flew from England across the Atlantic and crashed at Bridgeport, Conn., on a projected non-stop flight to New York.

In May of this year, Mrs. Mollison added three new records under her book. She set a record each way for solo flights between Cape Town and London and established a record for the round trip, which she completed in a flying time of 7 days, 22 hours and 43 minutes.

Squadron Leader J. A. C. Wright
Defeats Labor Candidate in Birmingham Seat

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 20 (AP).—The Conservative Party tonight retained the Erdington Division of Birmingham when Squadron Leader J. A. C. Wright was elected to the House of Commons in the by-election made necessary by the death of J. P. Ellis, K.C.

Squadron Leader Wright polled 27,068 against 20,834 for C. J. Simmons, Labor, in a straight party fight. His majority of 6,234 compared with a majority of 9,950 polled by Ellis against Simmons in the general election of 1935, but in that year there was an independent candidate, most of whose votes apparently went to Simmons today.

Greatest Memorial To Great Admiral's Still Famous Ship

Old 104-Gun Craft Was Forty Years of Age When Nelson Won Trafalgar—Now Object of Interest at Portsmouth

ONE hundred and thirty-one years ago today, a British fleet, under the command of the forty-seven-year-old vice-admiral of the White, Baron Nelson, of the Nile, and Burnham Thorpe, closed with a combined French and Spanish fleet, under the forty-two-year-old Admiral Pierre Charles Jean Villeneuve, about twenty miles due west of Cape Trafalgar and defeated them.

Why are the writings of Nelson so much read and studied 131 years after his death? Because he was a pioneer in the art of command—he was a leader amongst flag officers, each of whom had achieved good results in war. He both inspired, trusted, supported and gave credit to his subordinate officers.

The greatest memorial of the British Naval Service is His Majesty's 104 gun ship Victory, which was forty years old at Trafalgar. Before Nelson's day this wonderful ship had carried in turn the flag of Keppel, of Kempenfelt, of Howe, of Hood, and of Earl St. Vincent. Since these classic days she has stood as the emblem of that sea power upon which the safety, honor and welfare of the Empire depend.

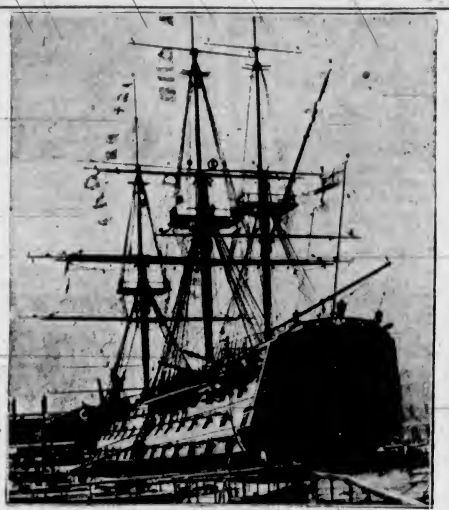

CLOSED CAREER
The Victory closed her sea-going career in 1812, and her last shift at Portsmouth took place in 1922, when she was moved into number two dock, the oldest dock in the world. She is supported in a steel cradle and her wooden masts have steel centres, which pierce the hull and rest on the bottom of the dock, while he afterwards became the hydrographer and a rear-admiral.

WAS ONLY RUMOR
An Admiralty order of April 24, 1830, directs the Victory to pay off and to be laid up in Ordinary. It was said that she was to be cut down to a second-rate. This saying was evidently a newspaper rumor, as the cutting down was never even started.

In 1830 an Admiralty order stated that "His Majesty's ship Victory is in future to be kept as the residence of the Captain of the Ordinary Portsmouth." In 1831 she was again commissioned as flagship of the Port Admiral, with the establishment of a sixth-rate—three lieutenants and 200 men. While serving as a flagship she, on July, 1832, was visited by Prince of Wales (afterward Queen Victoria). In 1836 she was moved from high up the harbor to moorings at the end of the line of ships in Ordinary nearest the dockyard, taking the place of the old Trafalgar Prince, then towed away to be broken up.

In 1838, in consequence of the inconvenience of her distance from the dockyard, the Victory was moved down to the sheer-hulk's moorings off the yard. She continued as flagship of the ordinary superintendent down to June, 1847, when she was officially designated "stationary flagship of the commander-in-chief." She had moved in 1840 to the moorings that she occupied until 1922.

From 1824, whenever the Victory was in commission, it had been customary to hold a "Trafalgar anniversary dinner" on board; retired Trafalgar officers, living within reach of Portsmouth, being invited by the

Conservatives of Oak Bay Arrange Winter Schedule

The executive committee of Wards Six and Seven, Oak Bay Conservative Association, held an enthusiastic meeting in the Campbell Building headquarters last night, when matters appertaining to organization were discussed.

It was arranged to hold monthly ward meetings on the second Monday in each month, the first to be held in Mr. Brown's store at the corner of Bowker Avenue and Cadboro Bay Road. It was also arranged to hold a series of public meetings in Oak Bay as often as good speakers can be secured.

The meeting was well attended, and a thorough discussion of organization was made possible, with the result that the late Fall and Winter schedule was well advanced.

Canadian Premier Attends
Dinner in London in Honor
Of Sir Percy Vincent

LONDON, Oct. 20 (G.P.)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King last night attended a dinner at the Canada Club in honor of Sir Percy Vincent, Lord Mayor of London.

After repeated calls for a speech, Mr. King expressed the privilege of joining in the tribute to the Lord Mayor, who recently returned from Canada. The Canadian Prime Minister also paid tribute to the services of Sir George McLaren Brown, of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who is retiring shortly.

GREETINGS FROM DUKE
A message of greeting from the Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada, was read, Sir Campbell Stuart reminded the company the Duke was now in his eighty-seventh year, but his Canadian memories never grew dim.

The toast to the Lord Mayor was supported by Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom. Other speakers included Mayor G. G. McGeer, of Vancouver; Leslie Hore-Belisha, Minister of Transport, and Field Marshal the Earl of Cavan, who was aide-de-camp to Lord Stanley of Preston, one-time Governor-General of Canada.

SHOW TO RUN SIXTY HOURS

Second Annual Winter Fair
Will Be Open From Monday to Saturday

Ten hours a day for six days of non-stop entertainment is the unusual goal which the management of the Winter Fair at the Armories, October 26 to 31, has set for itself.

The arrangement of worth-while entertainment features to cover sixty hours of the fair is no small order, but according to T. H. Eslick, the Tourist Trade Association's energetic secretary, it will be entertainingly accomplished.

Starting with the Baby Show on Monday at 2 o'clock, the opening ceremony by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at 4 o'clock, and presentation of prizes by Mrs. Eric W. Hamber at 4:15 o'clock, the musical dancing and other entertainment will commence and be continued throughout the six-day run of the fair.

The cooking demonstrations and cake-making contests for cash prizes arranged by the B.C. Electric Company and put on by Mrs. M. A. Foulds will run from 2:30 to 4 o'clock each day after Monday.

BABY SHOW ENTRIES
Entries for the Baby Show, for which The Daily Colonist has donated a silver cup, are free and still open. Parents or guardians desiring to have their baby compete are advised to call Empire 8913 for particulars as soon as possible.

The midway, or casino section, of this year's Winter Fair is said, according to applications received, to be bigger, brighter and better than last year's effort.

With well over 5,000 tickets of admission already sold, the attendance at this second annual Winter Fair is expected to create new records for Victoria.

TRAFALGAR

There is no naval victory of all history the commemoration of which persists to the same extent as that of Trafalgar. Why? Because of its influence on sea power; because it gave the ambitious schemes of Napoleon their first great setback through illustrating to him the impossibility of successfully invading Great Britain, and because, throughout the balance of the Napoleonic Wars, it gave to Great Britain the command of the seas. Trafalgar might well be described as the most decisive battle of all time, because it enabled this Empire to grow upon the seas unchallenged for upwards of a century.

In "The British Fleet," by Commander C. N. Robinson, the following appears: "Peace is our best security. A Navy so powerful that none would venture to disturb our occupations, so strong that the advantages which resulted from the victory of Trafalgar, and the events that ensued, should, by its very static force, be maintained, would be our truest safeguard."

It was Trafalgar that taught this lesson, and it is a matter of supreme moment to the history of the British race that once again there is a clear realization of what that sea victory meant. That is evidenced in the recent pronouncement of the present First Lord of the Admiralty that whatever conditions may be, the strength of the British Empire relative to other countries must never be allowed to sink so low as in the past. That Empire, or rather Great Britain, has tried the experiment of one-sided disarmament. By doing so it has seen the breakdown of negotiations for peace, it has imperiled peace itself, it has seen the margin of security go by the board. Great Britain hereafter will pursue the path of safety and carry out to its utmost the lesson of Trafalgar.

It is fitting, therefore, that such a victory should be remembered and that each succeeding generation should fortify itself by the traditions of the past. Trafalgar demonstrated that the Navy was what the late King George called, "the sure shield" of Empire. It demonstrated that the British are a seafaring race, and that the Empire is sea-made. It demonstrated, as was proved in the Great War, that the Navy stands as the invincible obstacle to any nation acquiring autocratic authority throughout the world. It was a striking illustration of the influence of sea power and was appraised as such by Captain A. T. Mahan, one of the most noted of sea historians, when he said:

"They were dull, weary, eventless months, those months of watching and waiting of the big ships before the French arsenals. Purposeless they surely seemed to many, but they saved England. The world has never seen a more impressive demonstration of the influence of sea power upon its history. Those far-distant storm-beaten ships, upon which the Grand Army never looked, stood between it and the domination of the world."

WHEAT AND RECOVERY

Wheat a few days ago, on the Winnipeg grain market, reached a high of $1.13, which means a dollar a bushel for the farmer for his No. 1. This is a strong element in the recovery that Canada is experiencing. This price, the most encouraging during the past six years, is due to shrinking world supplies because of drought and threatening adverse weather conditions in South America's grain territory. It means that there is a steady export of Canadian wheat which is likely to be maintained for some months to come, and at present the movement overseas and into the United States considerably exceeds that of a year ago. In a two-month period recently 43,000,000 bushels of wheat were shipped overseas, or into the United States, as compared with an export of 26,250,000 bushels for the same period a year ago.

The Wheat Board forecasts a substantial export movement during the next two months, and points out that cargo space to certain British ports during the present month has been scarce. The freight rates from Montreal and other St. Lawrence and Atlantic ports are about the same as in September, but there has been a sharp rise in the rate from Vancouver, which is explained by the possibility of trouble developing among longshoremen on the Pacific Coast. Liverpool believes that conditions are ripe for advancing wheat prices, and Chicago holds the same opinion. This is all to the advantage of Canada with its surplus flowing to export markets. The farmer of the Prairies is now receiving a higher price for his wheat than at any time since 1930.

A LIVING PHILOSOPHY

Lord Tweedsmuir has outlined a new vision for education in this country, and it is a vision that in reality is inherent in what education should be, but unfortunately one that in our university life seems to be forgotten, at least sometimes. Education is not solely directed towards success in life, that success which is measured in terms of the ability to make money; it is, as well, and perhaps most of all, the principle of a living philosophy which should be, as Lord Tweedsmuir says, "on the one side reverence and godly fear; on the other a cool, sane and clear-sighted attitude to the world around us."

His Excellency says that if he is right in his survey of what education should mean "then we have a philosophy of life, a philosophy based upon a humble and reasoned optimism. The duty of a university is to transmit to the next generation, the philosophy which we have learned from our fathers, widened and deepened by our own experiences."

Modern-day professors are prone to be too self-opinionated, and they give the tone to university training by making the students self-opinionated as well, and what they are not instilling is reverence and godly fear, for they delight in questioning the lessons of the experiences of the past. The result is that there are too many graduates turned out who fail to fit into the scheme of things, and then the scheme is blamed because it does not adapt itself to their way of thinking. Education is tending too much to the teaching of new isms, instead of to cultural development, and there is no new ism which has mounted higher in the scale of human knowledge than any to be found in the sentences of Plato, for the sum total that he gave to the world is what Emerson called "a discipline in logic, arithmetic, taste, symmetry, poetry, language, rhetoric, ontology, morals, or practical wisdom."

It is natural that university professors should hold opinions, but it is wrong that they should attempt to imbue their pupils with their own theories until those have been tried and proved in the burning fires of experience. It is the duty of the faculty of a university to absorb the learning of all times and to place it before their classes. Their work is cultural, not revolutionary; philosophical, not discursive. If they would stick more to the text of what they have to teach and express fewer opinions there would be a higher cultural life, and they would have a better chance of instilling, through a university, what His Excellency calls the principle of a living philosophy.

THE CLIFFS OF ENGLAND

The reservation of a 110-foot strip along the edge of the 500 miles of English cliffs was advocated by Dr. Vaughan Cornish in a paper recently read to the Geography Section of the British Association. Otherwise these beautiful sea views that from time immemorial have been one of the charms of the outdoor English life will be lost. Formerly a few houses only here and there had private grounds which reached to the edge of the cliff. The rest was farm land with freedom for the pedestrian. With the advent of the motor car, however, holiday bungalows are being built, shacks put up, camping grounds reserved. The influx of visitors, sometimes with dogs, has led the farmer, so as to protect his cattle, to put up barbed-wire fences.

Dr. Cornish sees in the changed conditions a rapidly-growing curtailment of cliff lands open to the public. Governmental action is necessary, in his opinion, and he suggests that a start should be made in forming the national reservation, that would really girdle the island, with three stretches of Cornish cliffs; the granite cliffs of Land's End, the Lizard Rock, and the slate cliffs of Boscastle to Tintagel. The mention of these wind-swept spaces kindles the imagination to roam over a score of other stretches of land overlooking the British waters, and to hope for their preservation for the people.

DICTATORSHIP VS. DEMOCRACY

A few weeks ago, in Soviet Russia, sixteen men were lined up and shot for conspiring against the life of Dictator Stalin.

Yesterday, in London, George Andrew McMahon received a sentence of one year at hard labor on a charge growing out of an alleged attempt against the life of King Edward VIII.

The other, solidly based on the will of the majority, feels secure in the knowledge that the assassination of no man or group of men would overthrow the institution of government.

Which is why, by the very nature of things, no dictatorship dares permit freedom of speech, press or assembly. It cannot do so and survive.

The corollary, of course, is that democracy cannot live without them.—New York World-Telegram.

PUPPETS IN SPAIN

Underlying the situation is the fact that the Fascist Government of Europe hope and desire that the Spanish rebels will win; that the Portuguese fear they are doomed unless the rebels get control of Spain; and that leading British Conservatives would prefer to see General Franco in power than a so-called republic dominated by Communists, Anarchists and Syndicalists. That fact is certainly well known to the Russians, who would like to see Spain Communist. Hence the danger that the Soviet Government will not wait for prompt, but will be satisfied that non-intervention does not exist by Madrid's assertions that foreign planes and munitions are flowing to the rebels, contrary to agreement. And if Russia openly takes sides, the rest of Europe may follow suit, with results that are incalculable.—Detroit News.

"If I go down in the sea, no one must fly out to look for me. I have chosen to make this flight, and I am confident I can make it, but I don't want to imperil the lives of others." Jean Batten, twenty-six-year-old New Zealand flyer declared before she took off to pilot a single-motored plane 1,100 miles over the Tasman Sea from Australia to New Zealand.

Brave words backed up by brave deeds, by a slip of a girl who had already flown solo over the South Atlantic, and was just completing in adverse weather a more daring flight from Britain to her homeland. "I am confident." How much those three little words can do for people, when they are given a chance. A couple of loops, two barrel rolls and happy landings, Anzac!

"They hit all the holes in the sky," explained an Indian guide who had conducted six members of the Ontario Legislature on a bagless duck hunt. Next trip, he said, the legislators are going after bull moose, as more visible, vulnerable targets.

Even moose can hit the target, as a busload of citizens on the Dauphin-Brandon road discovered last week, when a big moose charged the vehicle, ripped off a front fender and a door-handle, and shook them up from head to toe. Then he hit the holes in the nearby bush, to escape.

In the Eastern States the other day engineers watched an electric current that was to floodlight sixteen continuous miles of concrete paving and to make it almost as bright as in daylight. A new highway was born. One in which the road and not the cars will carry the lights; and whereon pedestrians, cyclists and even baby cabs will be clearly visible at all times. The absence of headlight glare, alone, should make for safe driving.

In addition, this highway has fast and slow speed lanes, clearly marked divisions to segregate traffic; and a means of preventing cross traffic suddenly intersecting itself into the moving streams of cars. It will be traveled, no doubt, by a toleless race of men, clothed from pounding pedals, clutches and accelerators.

"Canadians have no sense of make-believe," boldly asserted a visitor to Montreal recently. He told of traveling across the Dominion with a puppet show, and of secured attendance. In Montreal, said the visitor, he had given away seventy-five free passes, while only four people turned up at the puppet show. But perhaps he did not look in the right places. Surely he must at least have missed our capitals.

Over in Germany, where a meat shortage is embarrassing for the moment, they gave a whale of a dinner the other day—a dinner of whale. In fact, leading state and army officials were reported as remarking that whale flesh was most palatable, after the pungent oily taste had been removed by a new process. Jonah would have given a good deal for that process, one suspects.

Make-believe was the downfall of at least one Canadian, anyway. At Chatham, Ont., a six-year-old boy with an empty bucket was sent on an errand for his mother. He put the bucket over his head—and walked straight into the side of a passing truck. Inside of the bucket what happened must have seemed like an earthquake; but fortunately the boy was not really hurt. A little plasterer repaired the lad. The bucket was demolished.

At Shanghai, savants are working on the completion of two volumes of 3,000 pages, to contain, in 7,000,000 Chinese characters, a total of 100,000 phrases. The work will be called the Sea of Phrases, selected from 500,000 sayings in the Chinese tongue. It has taken twenty years to complete. British Columbia can hardly hope to equal that, though the Programme of Studies for Junior High School, with 655 pages, was prepared in less than a single year.

Parliament at Ottawa will shortly display a lion and a unicorn in carved stone, the gift from the Mother of Parliaments at Westminster of the Empire Parliamentarian Association. The massive cost of arms, with a shield alone missing, will be mounted on Parliament Hill. British Columbia is to receive a companion gift from the same source, in a piece of carved stone to arrive via the Panama Canal towards the end of this month. It will be incorporated in the Legislative Buildings.

A London, Ont., instalment insurance agent wrote a policy on the life of a three-month-old baby at Goderich last week, and smilingly turned to collect the first premium. He was handed thirteen pounds of copper in a honey pail and two tobacco jars. Stripped to his shirt-sleeves, he counted the pile, only to have the baby wreck the count.

SCHOOLS FOR THE DEAF

Items frequently appear in the daily papers and elsewhere concerning the donation of scholarships to various institutions of learning, but as yet none has been put into the hands of the deaf pupils in the Schools for the Deaf of Western Canada. These schools, established at Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Vancouver, provide deaf children with an education equal to grade VII or VIII in the public schools. There is no higher educational institution for the deaf in Canada. Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C., U.S.A., is the only college for the deaf in the world. This college, with its preparatory school, Kendall, gives high school and university courses, but it is evident that the expense involved in sending deaf students so far away is beyond the means of the majority of parents.

A scholarship fund sponsored by the Western Canada Association of the Deaf, exists, but it is not yet large enough to be really effective. This opportunity is, therefore, being taken to point out the situation with the hope of interesting people who are in a position to aid us by providing funds in the form of bursaries.

Any particulars required will be gladly furnished by the undersigned.

Secretary, Western Canada Association of the Deaf,

THE CHURCH'S TASK

Sir,—There is much thought and study put into the letters that appear in your correspondence columns written by Biblical scholars who differ in their theological religious beliefs.

We are inclined to think that their talents would be serving a better purpose if they were used in an effort to solve the most serious problem that confronts the church today—the problem of youth.

Mr. Paulding, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., speaking before the Rotary Club recently, on behalf of youth and its problem, said: "Religion, with the average young man, is discouraged." Such a statement coming from one whose position brings him into daily contact with a superior class of young men, is of tremendous import to the future religious life of the nation.

If the church fails to regain the lost confidence of youth (the church of tomorrow) the coming generation will surely follow in the footsteps of nations that have witnessed the spectacle of a dying faith.

If youth's religious training was more in alignment with its secular education, it would remove a great barrier that now stands between church and religion.

At the Second World Congress of Faith, convened in London, England, last July, Sir Herbert Samuel said: "If the churches wanted to recover their old influence, they must revise the presentation of their creeds, that they must eliminate the incredible."

That statement, to some orthodox minds, would class Sir Samuel as a modern heretic; but it is as well to remember that in the past he has been the heretic who have broken the shackles of superstition and ignorance and bought with their lives the religious freedom we enjoy today.

As the Christian Herald has often asserted: "The time is overdue for the church to make a re-statement of Christian truths."

Coast Navigation—A dispatch from Ottawa states that the first step toward improving the navigation of the Island and British Columbia coasts will be undertaken in two weeks. The Government has just authorized the construction of beacons or lightships on Sidney Island and Zero Rock. The work will be performed by the crew of the steamship, the Victoria, and when completed will render the navigation of the straits between the Island and the Mainland an easy task.

Reverend Post-Rev. Robert Stephen has tendered to the Presbytery his resignation as pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of this city. It is understood that the Presbytery will accept the resignation upon certain conditions being complied with.

Y.M.C.A. Concert—The opening concert given by the Young Men's Christian Association of this city at their new rooms in the Arcade Building last evening was very successfully attended. The new quarters, which have been previously noted at length, were admired by all, and are such that the association may well feel proud of them. The president, Noah Shakespeare, M.P., opened the programme with a short speech.

What is really going to be about the reconditioning of Central Park? When is the playing fields going to be fixed up for softball and soccer? Is the city doing the work on the five-year plan? These questions and a few others are fired at me on and off during each week by Victorians, most of them interested in athletics. Well, to be candid with you, I don't know the answers, although at one time I figured I did, for I hurried the city fathers for a long time to fix this playground up for the softballers and footballers. Finally the work was started and was going along without a hitch, when suddenly, for some unknown reason, work was disbanded and a few months the park looked like some deserted part of a battlefield. It still looks the same today. Just when the park will be ready for future use I don't know, so if you want the low down, drop ground to the City Hall and pop the question to the chairman of the parks board. But it looks as if the city is going to make it into a new park, for they are demolishing the old bandstand near the wading pool, and also taking down the children's swings to put up new ones for next summer. So let's hope that the playing fields are ready for games next season or 1938 at the latest.—J.D.

On the Way

Coal, the lame duck of British Columbia mining, will gain by $500,000 in the value of its output this year. Copper, greatly less in volume, has risen from 7.2 to 9.2 cents per pound. Structural materials are nearing the $2,000,000 mark for the first time in about five years. Record gold production may touch $15,000,000 in Canadian funds. Lead is close behind at almost $13,000,000. This is the contribution of private industry, though I suspect someone will blame a government for it sooner or later.—S.G.

A Riding We Will Go

With high hopes of lopping off many pounds and gaining svelte figures, nineteen girls in a department store have organized a club to take up horseback riding on Wednesday afternoons and Sundays. . . . Parked on Langley Street we noticed an old touring car with front and rear fenders held to the body by substantial sections and elbows of one-inch pipe. Years ago when the popular "Palestine Packards" thronged the roads, it was not uncommon to see many with fenders held from flapping by guy wires to the radiator cap. . . . A Federal Government officer, staying in the hotel where we hang our hat at night, takes no chances of being late for work. On a small table by his bed he sets two alarm clocks to ring ten minutes apart. Both timepieces were secured by diligently saving cigarette cards. . . . A friend who wears "store" teeth tells us a pipe is made with a curved stem to fit a smoker's chin and thus take considerable weight off upper and lower plates. Many wearers of false teeth find comfort in pipes with extra wide mouthpieces. . . . Speaking of smoking, we heard of a youth who smokes furiously in hopes that he will remain small enough to become a jockey. Although we commented inebrially on the fragrant weed at a tender age (this will be a surprise to dad) it did not prevent us from growing up and "stardily" . . . In Washington, North Dakota, High School, forty boys are taking a special course in home making that includes cooking and all the trimmings. Any boy who can cook, make beds, keep a house clean and darn socks should make a good husband. We should like to see Victoria School Board include such a course in the curriculum here.—G.B.

Obituary

GRANT—There was a large congregation yesterday afternoon at the funeral of William H. Grant, who passed away in this city on October 17. He had been a resident of Victoria for fifty years, and many old-time friends gathered to pay their respects to a departed friend. The beautiful floral tributes which covered the flower racks and were banked around the casket gave testimony of the great esteem in which he was held. Rev. Canon Hinchliffe conducted the impressive service, during which the hymns, "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Jesu, Lover of My Soul," were sung by the congregation. The following were pallbearers: H. E. Courtney, J. R. Saunders, William J. Cave, Fred A. Willis, A. V. Clarke and H. H. Shanks. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ROSS—At the family residence, 1216 Styles Street, last night, Tuesday Mrs. Mary Ann Ross, aged seventy-eight years. Born in Dunvegan County, Ontario, Mrs. Ross had resided in this city for the past fifty-three years. She was a valued member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and her passing will be keenly felt by a very wide circle of friends. She leaves in sorrow four sons, George, Alec, Stanley and Wallace, and two daughters, Mrs. A. C. Lough and Mrs. W. H. Moore, and seven grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, the cortege leaving the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home and proceeding to St. Paul's Church, where James Hyde will officiate at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

McEACHEN—Private funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for John Scouler McEachen, who passed away on Saturday at Fulford Harbor. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson officiated and interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: Jack McEachen, Winnipeg, eldest son of the deceased, James McEachen, Vancouver; J. T. Calder, Fulford Harbor; H. A. Blakey, D. C. Dispecker and Alexander Thompson, all of Victoria.

BADCOCK—The funeral for the late Emily Badcock, 817 McClure Street, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. E. O. Robathan will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

BRAZIER—An unusually large number of sympathizing friends attended funeral services yesterday for the late Herbert Brazier, 43 South Turner Street. Rev. E. O. Robathan officiated, during which one hymn, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and a solo, "Still Will We Trust," were sung. Many members of the P.P.C.L.I., as well as representatives of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion were present. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following acting as pallbearers: Edward Rouseforn, A. C. Rogers, A. D. Bennett, Thomas O'Neill, J. Cowen and F. A. Holden.

BLAKE—At the family residence, "The Sunset Seed Farm," Telegraph Road, Keating, on Tuesday afternoon, the death occurred of Mrs. Gladys Ellington Blake, wife of Frank O. Blake. Mrs. Blake was

LIMERICK TO BE AIR BASE

Decision of Free State Government Draws Protest From Galway

DUBLIN, Oct. 20 (CP-Havas).—The Free State Government last night officially informed Limerick Harbor Board, Foynes-on-Shannon would be the site of the new trans-Atlantic air line base.

Simultaneously the Galway harbor commissioners protested against the ban on employment of their port as a base for the Lufthansa service, as requested by the German Government on October 10 and refused owing to the Anglo-Canadian-American arrangement for a jointly operated trans-Atlantic line.

The Limerick board will appoint representatives to confer with Free State officials here next week on details of the new base, located on the harbor completed only last year, with an ideal landing area for seaplanes and a stretch of flat land adjoining the water which would be suitable for an airfield.

EXPRESS DEEP REGRET
The Galway commissioners expressed their "deep regret" that the Free State Government "felt itself obliged" to refuse the German request.

Preparations had been completed for Lufthansa's experimental flights from Galway, it was stated, "which would have given Galway the place to which its geographical position entitles it on the air map of the world as the natural gateway between Europe and America."

Imperial Airways and Pan-American Airways will co-operate in the new service. Experimental flights between the United States and Ireland are expected to be made shortly.

Foynes is located on the Shannon, west of Limerick, in a position somewhat similar to that held by Greenock in relation to Glasgow on the Clyde.

WHITE LOON IS GIVEN MUSEUM

Second Albino Diver Received by B.C. Institution in Thirty-Seven Years

British Columbia's museum was in possession yesterday of an albino specimen of the Great Northern Diver, a white loon, the second taken in provincial territory since 1899. While all over, save for slight brown markings on the back and wings, the loon was given to the institution by H. E. Hillier, of Uchelet, Francis Kermode announced.

One such specimen already is in the possession of the museum, a completely white loon taken also at Uchelet in the year 1899 by the late W. J. Sutton. The eyes in both specimens were pink.

ALBINO BIRDS
While white loons are rare, albino birds of other species are fairly common, attested by a display in the institution now of white robins, white meadow larks, and even some white crows.

The Uchelet diver will be mounted and displayed alongside the original specimen of 1899. Mr. Kermode stated. Thanks was expressed to Mr. Hillier for his unusual gift.

Wenger's Limited Announces Opening Day of Stock Clearance Bargains for Christmas Buying

With Christmas "just around the corner" and with the inevitable gift lists looming near, the announcement of a mammoth jewelry sale by Wenger's Ltd. 653 Yates Street, is of more than usual interest.

Established in 1876, this pioneer jewelry store has declared a Diamond Jubilee Anniversary Sale which will open tomorrow, sharp at 9 a.m. Throughout the year Wenger's jewelry store has maintained a reputation in handling only the highest quality in diamonds, watches, clocks, silversware and jewelry.

Tomorrow's sale includes everything in the wide and comprehensive stock, with no inferior article specially purchased for the event.

John Wenger, manager and proprietor of the store, announces that every article sold will carry the unqualified guarantee which has covered every transaction since the inauguration of the business.

THREE TRENDS IN EDUCATION
Convention at Regina Told Of Larger Unit of Administration Plan

REGINA, Oct. 20 (CP)—Three new trends in education, now being tried in different parts of the Dominion, were forecast as the accepted practices of the future at the afternoon session of the Canadian Educational Association convention here yesterday.

First of these was the larger unit of administration; second was the elimination of departmental examinations, except for entrance to university; and third was the establishment of elementary, intermediate and high school system of education.

A practical experiment had been made in the Peace River district of British Columbia. This district covered an area of 6,150 square miles. The experiment had increased services many times and had resulted in a saving of $12,000 in one year. The board was responsible to the Department of Education and was not elected.

The cost of education of each child had been reduced by $8 and the mill rate reduced from an average of 7.4 mills to six mills.

TAX COLLECTIONS ABOVE ESTIMATES

Esquimalt Municipal Council Receives Encouraging Report for Nine-Month Period

Esquimalt municipality's estimate of taxes collectable up to September 30 was exceeded by $1,302.40. G. H. Pullen, clerk, advised the Esquimalt Council Monday night. Reeve Alex Lockley enthusiastically stated the taxpayers should be congratulated.

Tax arrears on September 30 totaled $1,817.14 below the estimates. Without comment the auditor's report for the nine months, ending September 30, was received and filed. The report showed cash on hand and in the bank amounting to $21,019.38. This included cash on hand, $1,192.44; general bank account, $12,774.91; sewer loan bank account, $795.48; sewer loan sinking fund bank account, $1,984.31; Better Housing Act savings bank account, $182.52; unemployed relief sinking fund bank account, $705.20; high school loan sinking fund bank account, $1,010; and bank overdraft sinking fund bank account, $1,688.19. Total, $21,019.38.

RETURNS TO CITY FROM CONFERENCE

Grand Regent C. W. Stocker Back From Attending Party in San Francisco

Carlton W. Stocker, grand regent of the jurisdiction of Washington and British Columbia, of the Royal Arcanum, has returned to the city after attending a conference of grand regents of the Pacific Coast at San Francisco.

His itinerary also included a visit to the Spokane council and attendance at the meeting of officers of the Grand Council held in Seattle on Saturday night. He was accompanied from Seattle by Past Regent James Stewart, Douglas Park and Applegate, who made the trip on Saturday to attend the latter meeting.

Majestic Council, No. 1513, of the Royal Arcanum, will hold its first social event of the winter season at the K. of C. Hall, Friday evening. This will take the form of a "V" in the 80's," with dancing and refreshments. Tickets can be obtained from the officers of the council and members, and their friends are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

CANADA SUGAR WILL PAY EXTRA DIVIDEND

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP)—Directors of Canada & Dominion Sugar Company Limited declared an extra dividend today of $1 payable October 20 to shareholders of record October 15. A similar disbursement was paid in May.

City and District

Committee Meeting—A meeting of the Remembrance Day committee of the Canadian Legion will be held in the Naval Veterans branch, Broad Street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. All delegations are requested to attend.

To Organize Tonight—A meeting will be held at the Burnside School at 8 o'clock tonight for the purpose of organizing a parent-teacher association. Parents and friends are cordially invited.

Estimates to Treasury—Provincial estimates based on the week to the Treasury, where they will be put into final shape for presentation to the House along with the budget, early in the coming session. The Legislature will be formally convened on October 27, less than a week away now.

Postpone Hearings—In the city police court yesterday, the charges against certain members of the Chiropractors' Association affecting the carrying of a gun, were postponed on October 27, less than a week away now.

Have Bright Limit—Pages to serve the Eighteenth Legislature of British Columbia must not be more than five feet four inches in height. It was decided this week by the restoration of a former ruling. A sufficient number of boys to fill the uniform he had stock had already been forthcoming. It was anticipated that the appointment of seasonal stenographers will be announced shortly.

Stop Signs Installed—Saatchi Public Works Department has installed stop signs at all intersections along Douglas Street to Carey Road, Carey Road to Glanford Avenue and Glanford Avenue to East Saatchi Road. Chief Allan Rankin yesterday warned that all motor vehicles must stop prior to entering the highways, or their drivers would be liable to prosecution.

New Destroyer—Speaking on proposed defence plans for Lower Vancouver Island, C. J. McDowell at a recent annual meeting of the Esquimalt Liberal Association, stated he understood that a contract was about to be let in England for a new destroyer, superior to H.M.C.S. Skeena, which would be stationed in Esquimalt. He qualified his statement, saying, "I do not speak authoritatively."

Men's Parish Guild—The Men's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral will resume its regular meetings tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the guild room of the Memorial Hall, when Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., will entertain the meeting with reminiscences of old Victoria. The gathering will be open to men generally, and it is hoped that many will take advantage of the opportunity to attend, whether they are old-timers or comparative newcomers.

Victoria Choral Union—At the regular rehearsal of the Victoria Choral Union last week, a short practice of some of the choruses of the "Messiah" was held, after which the members enjoyed a social evening, which started and ended with a communal sing led by Herbert Kent, and Miss Noble, Seymour White, George Phillips and Harold Beckwith contributed songs and recitations. An adjournment was then made to the gymnasium, where refreshments were served and friendly conversation took place, and the meeting dispersed with the singing of "Good Night, Ladies."

Joseph Rose, Hugh Allan, Murray Martin and Leslie Ayland gave a humorous play entitled "If Men Played Bridge as Women Do." Their impersonation of four gossip women at a bridge table received an ovation. Mr. Francis sang two songs, "Edwards" and "A Victor King and Arthur Roberts," with Lawrence Mallek at the piano, staged a hidden singer contest in which the clubmen were required to name a man by his singing. Mr. Diggon entertained with several spectacular card tricks. The concert closed with "Alouette" and "God Save the King."

BIDS ASKED FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Milwaukee Road Needs Freight Locomotives and Will Spend Large Sum in Addition

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Bids for the purchase of thirty-one new locomotives and seven locomotive boilers are invited by the Milwaukee Road today.

The additional power consists of thirty freight locomotives and an other streamlined locomotive of the same type as the three brightly-lighted engines now in service on the Milwaukee Road. The Milwaukee Road's new streamlined speed train operating between Chicago-Milwaukee and St. Paul-Minneapolis.

Replacement of turntables, enlargement of engine house stalls and strengthening of bridges in the territory where the freight engines are to operate will necessitate an expenditure of about $500,000.

AIRCRAFT HEAD BUYS PROPERTY

W. E. Boeing, Head of Seattle Company, Acquires Tract at Cowichan

W. E. Boeing, head of the Boeing Aircraft Corporation of Seattle, has completed purchase of eighty-five acres of land at Cowichan Bay. It was reported here yesterday by J. H. Whitmore & Company, Limited, realtors of Duncan. It is understood Mr. Boeing will develop the property for fishing and hunting. The price paid was not disclosed.

The property was formerly owned by A. M. Shaw, Victoria, and is situated on what is known as Cowichan Flats, an area noted for its fishing and hunting. So far as known, Mr. Boeing does not contemplate any building at the present, but may convert the farmhouse into a lodge.

The proposal is to create a new school district to be known as Chemainus, which would include the industrial area around the mill town. The existing North Cowichan school district will be redefined by excluding Chemainus townsite, but increasing its area in the south by absorbing a portion of the territory near Westholme now included in the Duncan Consolidated School District.

The Consolidated district would be compensated for the loss of some taxable land in the north by the inclusion of the Grouse Bay area within its boundaries.

TO RELIEVE FARMERS
The object of the proposed change is to relieve the farmers in the agricultural area of the higher cost of education in the Chemainus industrial area. Chemainus is in urgent need of more school accommodation, but the farmers object to increased taxes for this purpose. A by-law to erect a school at Chemainus having met with disastrous defeat at the hands of North Cowichan ratepayers last January.

Some difficulties in connection with the scheme still remain to be ironed out, but the council hopes that those will be satisfactorily met and the necessary legislation to bring about the change will be put through at the coming session of the Legislature.

BOUNDARY MAY BE REDEFINED

Proposal Being Considered For New School District Of Chemainus

DUNCAN, Oct. 20.—The North Cowichan Council at the week-end had before it for consideration a proposal for the redefining of school boundaries within the municipal limits.

The proposal is to create a new school district to be known as Chemainus, which would include the industrial area around the mill town. The existing North Cowichan school district will be redefined by excluding Chemainus townsite, but increasing its area in the south by absorbing a portion of the territory near Westholme now included in the Duncan Consolidated School District.

The Consolidated district would be compensated for the loss of some taxable land in the north by the inclusion of the Grouse Bay area within its boundaries.

ANOTHER LIFE ADDED TO TOLL

Taxicab Driver Killed When Car Skids on Vancouver Bridge

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP)—The traffic toll on Granville Street bridge today mounted to five for the year with the death of Gordon Campbell, thirty-year-old taxicab driver, fatally injured last night by a section of the bridge rail into which his cab crashed.

McCuig was driving two other cab drivers home from work when his machine skidded out of control as he attempted to pass another automobile.

It struck a street car, mounted the curb to the sidewalk at the side of the bridge, then struck the street car again as it crossed the road and plunged into the rail at the far side. Then struck an automobile traveling in the opposite direction and came to a stop near the bridge end. John Smith and Fred Hayden, who were riding with McCuig, suffered chest and head injuries. Their condition was reported good tonight.

Sixty Sentenced To Whipping Post

BOMBAY, Oct. 20 (CP-Havas).—Sixty persons, arrested for complicity in the Hindu-Muslim riots of the past five days, faced the whipping post tonight as British authorities moved sternly to restore complete order.

The sixty sentenced to floggings were among more than 100 arrested by police during the riots, which took a toll of fifty-eight killed and more than 500 injured.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Sisters Are Honored at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph's Alumnae last evening made presentations to Sister Mary Gregory, who on her retirement from the position of superintendent of nurses automatically retired also from the office of honorary vice-president of the alumnae, and to her successor, Sister Mary Beatrice, who is assuming the position of superintendent of nurses, has become the honorary vice-president of the society.

The presentations took place during an informal social hour preceding the regular business meeting of the alumnae. Mrs. Leo O'Leary, vice-president of the alumnae, in making the presentation of a book and flowers for Sister Mary Gregory, acknowledged with deep appreciation the interest the latter had shown during the eighteen years she had been connected with the members. Owing to indisposition, Sister Mary Gregory was unfortunately unable to be present in person to receive the gifts, which were accepted on her behalf by Sister Mary Beatrice, who was cordially welcomed to the office of honorary vice-president, and presented with flowers.

A programme to which the following nurses in training contributed, was greatly enjoyed. Miss B. Slater and Miss Guthrie, vocal selections, accompanied by Miss M. Priory, and Miss N. Macleod, recitations. Refreshments were also served by the alumnae.

At the short business meeting that followed, the report of the rummage sale last Saturday was given, showing a net intake of $17.50, which will go toward the expense of having two new windows put in a part of the nurses' home which is being remodelled.

TODAY'S RECIPE

DATE Cookies—Half a cup of butter and lard mixed, one cup of sugar, add two cups of chopped rolled oats, alternately with one-half cup of sour milk. Then add enough pastry flour to make the dough roll thin, sifting with the first cupful half a teaspoon of soda and one-quarter of a teaspoon of salt. About two cups of flour will be needed. Cut the cookies in any shape desired and fill with date mixture either before or after baking. Filling: Remove stones from half a pound of dates and cut in pieces. Add three-quarters of a cup of brown sugar and one cup of cold water. Cook for twenty minutes and let cool. —Prudence.

MASSACRE IN SPAIN FEARED BY BRITAIN

The foregoing note was addressed to the diplomatic representative of the British Government in Madrid and in Hendaye, France, and instructed the recipients "to keep naval authorities closely in touch with developments and arrange details with them direct for any evacuation."

During the siege of the Alcazar fortress in Toledo containing 1,700 insurgent men, women and children, the Chilean ambassador to Spain personally appealed to the fortress' commanders to release the women and children, but the effort was in vain.

At the Northern coastal city of Bilbao, several hundred hostages are held by the Government defenders of the city, and frequent efforts to have them guaranteed safety have been fruitless.

There has been consistent reports of mass executions of hostages by the rebels in retaliation for air bombardments.

tions, and that at least twenty families had been forced from their homes. Most of the damaged structures were grouped beneath the high cliffs bordering the St. Lawrence River on the western outskirts of the city.

LONG NIGHT OF TERROR
During the height of the fire some families could be seen carrying furniture and other belongings from their homes, fearful the flames would spread along the river bank while still others climbed the high stone cliffs of the old citadel, expecting that at any moment the street would be showered with flaming oil.

Just twenty minutes before the explosion the Canadian Pacific Railway's Montreal-bound train passed the spot where the explosion occurred.

Families who left their homes were staying with friends and neighbors (night), but expected soon to repair their structures and move back.

HEAR LECTURES ABOUT DICKENS

Two Interesting Addresses Given at Meeting of Victoria Fellowship

The Dickens Fellowship met Monday evening in the Women's Institute Hall, 635 Port Street, and Ernest Frederick Chester, a visitor from Hollywood, addressed the fellowship on the subject of "Charles Dickens' Place on the Literary Map." Mrs. M. Chapple gave the second installment of her impressions of the Centenary Celebrations, covering the visit to Gads Hill and the ride to Rochester.

Mrs. Chapple delighted the members with another chapter of her observations as delegate at the Centenary Celebrations in London, when she described, in detail, the ride to Rochester and the visit to Gads Hill. She told how the Pickwickian coach left the Golden Cross Inn promptly at 9 a.m. amid the cheers of a huge crowd of interested spectators. On hand were forty cameramen set to photograph Mr. Pickwick and his party as they mounted to their seats in the coach. After the departure of this Victorian conveyance, the assembled Dickensians boarded motor buses for Gads Hill.

TOUR OF GROUNDS
Treated to a tour of the house and grounds, they were quick to note that the latter were kept in perfect order. Mrs. Chapple said she was particularly interested in a large bush of rosemary planted outside the drawing-room window in memory of Charles Dickens. There, too, in one corner of the garden, she saw the grave of "Dick the Raven." The date on the headstone was 1864.

The rooms inside the house were furnished almost as Dickens must have left them. His study was full of piles of real Gads Hill days, among them, placed by the window, the desk where he so often sat writing. On the wall was an old spade used by Dickens to dig in his garden.

WORLD LITERATURE
Mr. Chester's address was somewhat of an innovation as far as the Dickensians were concerned. In half an hour, in an erudite but interesting manner, he covered the entire scope of world literature. As an author he claimed the right to speak of Dickens' work in an unbiased manner, to criticize where he felt criticism was justified and worthwhile. His avowed object was to start the Dickensians thinking along new lines.

Mr. Chester, like the majority of modern authors, believes that the general accepted beliefs concerning famous literary men are full of fable and misconception and that they should be "debunked" to bring them down to the level of fact. "Only in this way," he stated, "can we judge each famous author's place on the literary map."

"Sometimes," said Mr. Chester, "I am able, through these talks, to start an argument, and the man who can start a really good argument is a man among men—probably he is an Irishman." In this Mr. Chester proved that he was right. He sent the members of the Dickens Fellowship home in a delightfully argumentative manner.

Before the meeting adjourned for refreshments, the secretary announced the completion of plans for a Dickens dramatic evening on November 4, when the Vancouver Dickens Players will put on several sketches at the Grange Memorial Hall here. H. L. Fensham, the president, presided.

The Madrid masses did not have far to go. The insurgents on both the southern and northern fronts were pushing steadily ahead on each sector within twenty miles of Madrid.

IN COUNTER-ATTACK
MILANSAS, Spain, Oct. 20.—Madrid Government militia turned in fierce counterattack today on this viewpoint of the Fascist army, seeking to push its way to the Spanish capital twenty-three miles away.

Five thousand Madrid troops pumped rifle bullets into the Fascist lines, occupied by African legionnaires and Moorish troops. Two batteries of Government 75-shelled the town and six Madrid anti-aircrafts dropped a barrage of bombs.

SHOOTING REPORTED
LISBON, Oct. 20.—The newspaper Dario Lisboa said today Spanish Government deserters told officials the insurgent headquarters at the town of Estremoz, near the frontier, shot and killed Indalecio Prieto, Minister of Air and Navy.

The report without confirmation, said the shooting occurred because Prieto insisted on the surrender of Madrid to the Spanish insurgents.

MUNICIPALITIES IN B.C. SEEKING HELP

Crouch, R. F. Blandy, Mayor B. Seaton, R. F. Seaton, Mayor Sullivan, union solicitor, and others.

COSTS WENT UP
Supporting their arguments, the delegation stated social service costs to the extent of some $800,000 had been added on to the municipal budgets by provincial action, while Government grants had lessened by a sum in excess of $1,400,000. British Columbia cities, they contended, were $2,200,000 poorer in respect to their combined income than they had been a few years ago, by reason of these changes, exclusive of unemployment relief costs. The delegation pointed to the King report upon educational finance, to suggest that the Government take over the entire cost of education. Alternatively removal of social service bills was sought, restoration of former Government grants, which had included liquor permits and pari-mutuel racing fees. The precise form of remedy was left to the Government to work out. It is unofficially believed that the Province will assume part of the social service costs arising through its own legislation, but restoration of grants or any wholesale change in meeting costs of education are not anticipated. The Province's answer will probably be given in the budget.

RESOLUTIONS
At their Vernon convention last Summer, the municipalities endorsed eighteen resolutions, and took official note of the fact that civic aid was given at that session by the Government through Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The resolutions asked help with the civic budgets of 1937, commencing in January next, renewed request for establishment of a public utilities commission; asked restoration of funds from beer parlor and club licenses within civic areas; endorsed the King report on educational financing by the Provincial Treasury and, after lesser submissions, pleaded for the appointment of a provincial highway commission.

The resolutions will go before the various departments of the Government, and later to the Legislative Committee on Municipal Affairs. The delegation made no secret of the fact that what the cities want chiefly is either relief from such costs or additional cash to meet them.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"
If October 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

Do not trust too much to your memory this day, for verifications might correct erroneous impressions. Memorandums are apt to prove of importance, especially in the marts of trade. Mix-ups are liable to cause many a social engagement to become a complication rather than an anticipated pleasure, so be cautious in this respect. It will take only a flash of temper to cause the average person's anger to explode, so keep your emotions under control this day. Tenacity of purpose is the factor essential to put things over for the temptation to procrastinate, daily-daily or shirk responsibilities is likely to be prevalent. Conscientious efforts to make money ought to succeed. Those who celebrate this day as their birth anniversary, in all likelihood, will have many reasons for great rejoicing. Events seem to be shaping that may bring many changes for the better in your fortunes. Be prepared for some pleasant excitement. In many ways you are liable to improve both physically and mentally. You are due to have a decidedly optimistic outlook on life, owing perhaps to a series of lucky happenings. Clear your mind of pessimistic thoughts for they will retard the good that Dame Fortune has in store for you. As a teacher, lecturer, missionary, secretary, solicitor, artist, author or musician, a bright future may be awaiting you. Let your dogmate your matrimonial affairs and great will be your happiness.

The child born on October 21 from the time it arrives at its "teen" is liable to be very successful in all its undertakings. This youngster is endowed with grit, perseverance and common sense.

If a man and October 21 is your natal day you ought to be very popular in both social and business circles. Self-control, particularly in suppressing ill temper, is important for both social and business success. Architecture, engineering, promoting advertising, brokerage, writing acting or educational work are among the best activities in which you might engage.

FRENCH AGRARIAN LEADER ARRESTED

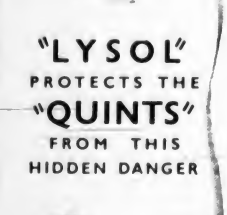

Is Jailed With Fifty Followers For Disregarding Ban on Meeting of Organization
PARIS, Oct. 20 (CP-Havas).—Henri Dorgères, head of the "peasant defence committee," and fifty of his followers were arrested here last night after demonstrations which followed the Blum Government's ban on a meeting of the organization.

The agrarian leader was seized at the local police prefecture, where he had gone to demand the release of his followers, arrested in the Clichy Market when they refused to disperse.

A parade in Nantes by followers of Jacques Doriot, head of the "French People's Party," resulted in a minor riot. Several were injured when Doriot's opponents attempted to halt the procession.

INFECTION

"LYSOL" PROTECTS THE "QUINTS" FROM THIS HIDDEN DANGER

"Lysol" Disinfectant has been used to protect the famous Dionne Quintuplets against the germs of dread infection since the very morning they were born. It is still the only germicide used to disinfect their surroundings.

The fight against germs is essential in every home where there are growing children. Babies are so apt to touch and even taste everything they see. Disinfect, as you clean, with "Lysol".

"Protecting the Dionnes"—the story of how "Lysol" is used in the modern little Dales Nursery—is offered FREE to all mothers, to help them protect their babies, their loved ones, against infection.

How to get "Protecting the Dionnes" booklet: Write to Dept. of Health, Lysol (Canada) Ltd., 9 Dundas Ave., Toronto 3, Canada. Enclose a recent copy of "The Evening News" and your name and address on a separate sheet from that to Dept. of Health.

CAPITOL SHOWING
HILARIOUS COMEDY

Robert Montgomery Excels in Screen Version of P. G. Wodehouse's "Piccadilly Jim"

One of the most uproarious laugh riots of the year comes to the Capitol screen starting today with the release of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Piccadilly Jim," starring Robert Montgomery.

Of all the hilarious comedies written by the brilliant British humorist, P. G. Wodehouse, "Piccadilly Jim" has been proclaimed his funniest.

The picture brings together for the first time in three years the romantic team of Montgomery and Madge Evans. They were last seen together in "Lovers Courageous."

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard, who made "The Great Ziegfeld," the new picture gives Montgomery and Miss Evans a stellar supporting cast that included a new comedy team, Frank Morgan and Billie Burke, in addition to Eric Blore, Robert Benchley, Ralph Forbes, Cora Witherspoon, Grant Mitchell, Allen Pringle and Billy Bevan.

ATLAS Warner Baxter, starred in "The Great Ziegfeld," now at the Capitol Theatre, is an ardent outdoor enthusiast and rests, between pictures, at a cabin high in the San Jacinto Mountains.

COLUMBIA Ann Rother, featured with George Bancroft and Victor Jory in Columbia's "Hell-Ship Morgan," now at the Columbia Theatre, rarely misses attending at least one performance of the world play being presented in town. Ann feels that she learns what not to do by watching other's mistakes on the stage.

DOMINION What may be expected to happen when a happily married husband takes the advice of a love expert and starts a love affair just to keep his wife's nervous system properly tuned by keeping her slightly jealous, is now revealed at the Dominion Theatre in "Wives Never Know," the comedy starring Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland. The love expert in this instance is dapper Adolphe Menjou.

OAK BAY Playing a matinee this afternoon and continuing this evening, the Oak Bay Theatre offers a bumper programme of amusement, with Shirley Temple in "The Littlest Rebel" and a riotous comedy, "Miss Pacific Fleet," with Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell in the role of two stranded chorus girls who make the men of the navy stand and deliver.

PLAZA "Smilin' Through," now at the Plaza Theatre, is the sentimental story of a man who, unable to forget a tragedy which happened fifty years earlier in his life, seeks to gain vengeance by thwarting the son of the man who destroyed his happiness. In each instance Norma Shearer is the girl involved.

BRILLIANT PIANIST IN RECITAL TOMORROW
There is no one on the concert stage today who plays a more completely satisfying programme than Gertrude Huntly Green, and no one whose appearance so entirely corresponds with her attainments. When Mrs. Green's art is better known to Victoria residents, she plays at the Empire Theatre to tomorrow, many in the audience will be reminded of the night some years ago when this very fine artist appeared in this theatre with the celebrated composer, Leopold Godowsky, in two-piano work.

Godowsky was so pleased with Mrs. Green's work he offered her every inducement to go on tour with him, begging her to make a four-years' contract. Gertrude Green has improved since that time even, until, after studying in Germany with the Russian composer, Medtner, she made an instant success in London at Wigmore Hall a few years ago.

The concert begins at 8:30. No one will be seated while a number is being played.

DANCING TEAM COMING TO CAPITOL THEATRE

In "Swing Time," opening Saturday at the Capitol Theatre, RKO-Radio is presenting Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in the sixth of a series of pictures that have established an all-time record for star-turn success.

Including "Flying Down to Rio," "The Gay Divorcee," "Roberta," "Top Hat" and "Follow the Fleet," a series in which each succeeding film has topped its predecessor in popularity and box office returns. Reason for that record, outside of the brilliance of the stars, has been suggested as lying in the spirited novelty of their performances and the lavishness of their productions.

SPECIAL SEATS FOR STUDENTS AT CONCERT

Arrangements have been made to provide special seats for music students, high schools, colleges and institutions of learning for the concert to be given by the Seattle Symphony Orchestra on November 5 at the Royal Victoria Theatre. These may be signed for at Fletcher Bros' Music House.

LECTURES MONDAY ON SOUTH AFRICAN TREK

The tremendous strides made during the last few years in perfecting color photography have been suggested as lying in the spirited novelty of their performances and the lavishness of their productions.

An excellent opportunity to see the beautiful effects obtained by the Pictorial Natural Color Process will be the forthcoming illustrated lecture by Lionel E. Taylor, on his recently completed "12,000 Mile Caravan Trek Through South Africa," to be held at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Monday evening, October 26, at 8:15 o'clock. The pictures used will be those taken on the expedition by Lieut. Col. G. A. Duncan, the photographic expert of the party.

Photographs were obtained of plants and ferns hitherto unknown to botanical science and first hand information as to the terrain in which they grow, their true color and the size, shape and color of the foliage was secured.

WAITING DECISION OF APPEAL COURT

Final Argument Heard at Ottawa in Brownlee-MacMillan Seduction Case

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—With five judges of the Supreme Court of Canada tonight, rests the issue of whether Miss Vivian MacMillan recovers any damages from John Brownlee, former Premier of Alberta, for an alleged seduction.

Argument in Miss MacMillan's appeal from judgments of the Alberta courts concluded before the Supreme Court yesterday and the judges reserved their decision.

The jury at the trial in Edmonton awarded Miss MacMillan $10,000 and her father, Allan D. MacMillan, $5,000. Justice Ives refused to enter the verdict and dismissed the action. The Alberta Court of Appeal upheld him unanimously regarding the father's claim, but two of the five judges would have allowed the girl's appeal. From this decision Miss MacMillan appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Questions of both law and fact were involved as Neil MacLean argued for Miss MacMillan and A. L. Smith and R. Martland represented Mr. Brownlee.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE CO-OPERATIVE DOUBLE OF OPENING PRE-EMPTIVE BIDS

When an opponent makes an opening pre-emptive bid of three or four, a double is a combination takeout and penalty double. It is called a "co-operative double."

To double an opening pre-emptive bid of three or four you need three or four cards of any one of the three unbid suits. The partner of the doubler need not take out if he has a weak hand and no very long suit. But with a five card biddable suit and one and a half honor tricks he should take the double of a three bid out, with two honor tricks he should take out the double of a four bid.

A LITTLE CARE
Extraordinary length in a suit in one opponent's hand, with consequent shortness in the other, is responsible for an incalculable number of defeated contracts. But I strongly suspect that a large proportion of such cases could be guarded against by correct technique on the declarer's part. Today's hand is an example of how much difference a little care makes.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE CRITICIZED BY AMERKS

Harry Balsamo to Meet "Babe" Risko In New York Ring

New Middleweight Sensation Will Exchange Blows With Former Titleholder October 28—Mike Jacobs Will Show Balsamo in Several Big Cities—Lewis to Fight in England

By EDIE BRIEF
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mike Jacobs, who made a fortune with Joe Louis, is getting ready to reap another harvest of gold with the good right hand of young Harry Balsamo, the new middleweight champion.

Since the former subway braken deftly polished off Eric Seelig with a startling one-round knockout last week to place himself definitely on the list of title contenders, offerors for his services have poured in from every direction.

Even the Far West, where Freddie Steele, ruler of the 160-pound division, makes headquarters, is bidding for a glimpse of the lad whose hitting power is compared to that of the Brown Bomber, weights considered.

Jacobs, who tied Louis to a long term contract the moment the negro showed signs of developing into a box office attraction, has done the same with Balsamo.

For the next five years the Italian will do all his fighting for Jacobs. Balsamo is owned and managed by two New York businessmen, but it will be up to the head of the 20th Century Sporting Club to say when, where and whom the youngster fights.

TO FACE RISKO
Balsamo will go to the post in the New York Hippodrome, October 28, against Babe Risko, former middleweight champion. After that he will be booked for headline fights in other cities.

Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago are some of the places where Jacobs expects to show his new meat ticket.

Chino Alvarez, southern light-weight, is here from Tampa to gun for a fight with Titleholder Lou Ambers. Jose Brescia, the handsome Argentine who looked better against Joe Louis than any of Joe's opponents except Max Schmeling, is due for another appearance in the Hippodrome soon. Gus Greener, manager of John Henry Lewis, the light-heavyweight champion, is on his way to England to direct Lewis' training for his fight with Len Harvey in London, November 6.

SPENCERS AND HUDSON'S BAY BATTLE TODAY

Departmental Store Eleven Clash in Wednesday Football League Feature

Deadlocked with the Navy in a triple tie for first place, Hudson's Bay and Spencers, keen rivals for Wednesday Football League honors, will clash this afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in the feature attraction on the twin bill. The Garrison-Victoria Longshoremen game has been postponed.

The Diamond "S" boys have a win and a draw in two engagements, while the green and gold-sweated lads have three draws as many starts.

Navy and James Bay Wanderers will meet in the opening fixture at 2:15 o'clock with McMillan handling the whistle. The sailors have a well-balanced eleven and should add two points to their total at the expense of the James Bay squad.

Present holders of the coveted Hayward Cup, the Hudson's Bay will trot out their strongest team in hopes of turning back Spencers and taking over the league leadership with the sailors.

Line-ups follow:
Navy—Muir, W. Hibbert, H. Dovey, Hutton, Robinson, Sands, Brown, McLean, Cockrell, W. De Costa and Walker. Subs, Hibbert, Hall, Healey and J. Dovey.
Hudson's Bay—Travis, Larry Kennedy, O'Connell, White, Les Kennedy, McConnell, Oakman, McLellan, Myles, Wyatt and Fish. Sub, Duncan.

Spencers—Stewartson, Moir, Cann, L. Bradley, Chapman, D. Bradley, Brown, Clarke, Stewart, Collins, McMillan, Sub, Turner and Munroe. James Bay Wanderers—G. Sadler, W. Gelling, Coates, Smith, Knapp, W. Sadler, Glancy, L. Gelling, Hood, Ball and White. Subs: Daniels, Watson and Alcock.

Balsamo Batters Seelig to Canvas

Boxing Row is booming a new "comet" since Harry Balsamo, battering ex-freakman, took exactly one minute and four seconds of the first round to belt out blond Eric Seelig, of Germany, in a scheduled ten-round fight in New York. Referee Johnny Marto stopped the fight after Seelig had been floored for two counts and was practically out on his feet. Seelig is pictured above hanging on the ropes dazed and helpless, while Balsamo stands ready for more action. He has been packing in the customers at small fight centres, and will be groomed for bouts against some of the "leading" heavyweight contenders.

Pam Barton's Record Is Impressive Says Little

Possesses Skillful Game but Lacks Well-Rounded Technique of Joyce Wethered, Virginia Van Wie and Glenna Vare, States Lawson

By LAWSON LITTLE
Only Holder of British and American Amateur Titles Two Years Running
Pam Barton, nineteen-year-old British champion and sole British representative in our women's golf championship, defeated Maureen Orrcutt Crews, of Coral Gables, Fla., 4 and 3. In the thirty-six-hole final of the United States women's golf championship, to become the second woman in history to win these two major titles in the same year. She tied the record set by Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd over twenty years ago.

Despite her record, I don't believe she is to become another Joyce Wethered, Virginia Van Wie or Glenna Vare, unless she diversifies her shots more than could be seen during her play in this country.

A powerful girl in stature, with determination radiating from her is the picture portrayed to the gallery. She has the faculty of being able to break her concentration long enough to smile at some friend in the gallery or say an English phrase and then go right back to work on the most difficult golf shot. Her smiles and her lady-like conduct, on and off the course, have endeared her to the American galleries and they are hoping she will come back next year to defend her title.

Her acceptance speech showed her true feeling when she said: "Ladies and gentlemen, or rather I should say friends because you have been so nice to me."

GAME TYPICALLY BRITISH
Going back to her game it can be analyzed as typically British. An upright swing for all shots, with a slight sway toward the right foot during the downswing. Her grip is powerful and of the left-to-right or fade type. Her iron shots are also faded into the pin—she is an exceptionally fine bunker player and frequently shows brilliancy on the putting green.

Throughout the championship the course was exceptionally wet and muddy. Miss Barton was practically all of her shots high in the air. There were several cases when her ball picked up large sobs of mud in the fairway and it seemed to us that some of this could be eliminated if she hit a lower ball that would run far enough to clean itself after it hit. The point is: Can she play low shots at will?

On the fifteenth hole in the afternoon of the final, she hit a fine drive down the left side of the fairway where the hole dog-legged to the left. To make matters worse the pin was on the left side of the green, with a trap intervening. The only shot to play was a right to left, or a slight hook. Miss Barton played the shot as usual from left to right, and the ball went into the trees at the corner of the dog-leg about forty yards from her. Apparently she seemed unable to play a shot from right to left. These are the only two criticisms I could see in her play.

Joyce Wethered is a natural player with every shot known in golf repertoire. Virginia Van Wie is another player who has a great variety of shots along with an exceptional golfing temperament. Should Pam Barton hope to rival these two players in our estimation, she will have to develop a little more variety to her game. Miss Barton's performance throughout her short visit here was exceptionally fine and I don't mean to discredit her play. In fact, while she was here she was sensational around the greens and would have given a good account of herself against any woman player. My only thought is that she should have a few more different types of shots at her command so she will be able to meet any condition that happens to arise.

It would be very simple for her to develop a fine right-to-left shot. This suggestion should help chronic slicers, too. She should clear her stance slightly when attempting this type shot. That is, her right foot should be slightly farther from the intended line of flight than her left. Then she should hit the ball with the face of the club square to the intended direction, but slightly from the inside-out. An action of this kind would give the ball a little hook spin that would start it slightly to the right and then come in to the hole.

The large silver cup emblematic of the United States women's golf championship has gone across the Atlantic for the first time since 1909. The only regret in its going is that Pam has gone, too. In her all-too-short stay here we learned to know her and regretted to see her go. The bright outlook is that she will probably come back next year to play us another visit and defend her title.

Membership Drive Of Fish and Game Body Encouraging

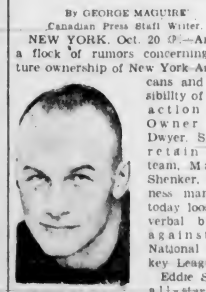

WITH thirty members added to the membership roll since the inauguration of the drive one week ago, officials of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association are more than pleased with the results being obtained in the move to boost the membership to the 300 mark before Christmas.

Ernest Todd, well-known Victoria sportsman, has donated a special prize which will go to the member bringing in the largest number of new members before the next meeting of the association.

Jack Palkins, recently elected secretary, announced yesterday that a number of inquiries are being received daily, and expressed the opinion that the quota set would be met before the drive is finally completed.

BUSINESS MANAGER OF NEW YORK CLUB CHARGES OFFICIALS

States That League Had No Right to Take Over Franchise of Americans—Many Mentioned As Potential Owners of Club—Total Debt of Club Is About $200,000

EDDIE SHORE

By GEORGE MARSHALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Amidst a flock of rumors concerning future ownership of New York-American and possible action by Owner Bill Dwyer, Sr. to retain the team, Marty Shenger, business manager, today issued a verbal blast against the National Hockey League.

Shenger charged the league had no right to assume the franchise of the Americans despite the club's financial indebtedness to it.

"If the league goes ahead with its plans to sell the team, we will fight the action in the courts," he said.

DUTTON TO CONTINUE
At a torrid session of the league's board of governors here yesterday, the directors declared the American franchise forfeited through failure of the club to comply with the league's demand for payment of the Americans' debt. Manager Mervin "Red" Dutton was named to continue at the helm of the club with President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League acting in an advisory capacity.

Shenger said he had talked to Dwyer, principal owner of the Americans who is in Miami and that Dwyer had already consulted counsel.

"The announcement of the league will make absolutely no difference in our plans," said Shenger. "The team is practicing now and will continue to do so."

Shenger said the club management would take no action until the league actually tried to put the Americans on the ice. The star-spangled pucksters are scheduled to swing into action at Chicago November 7.

Shenger frankly admitted the club was in debt and only to the league but to other sources. It was known the National Hockey League advanced $18,000 to pay players' back salaries last spring and unofficial estimates placed the total debt of the club at around $200,000.

"We are in debt, but we are not being pressed by any creditors except the league," Shenger added. "All the others have agreed to wait."

STONEHAM INTERESTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Horace Stoneham, youthful president of the New York Giants Baseball Club, said today he was ready to negotiate for purchase of New York Americans if the National Hockey League places the franchise on the market.

"I am fond of hockey and I believe the Americans can improve to pay dividends," Stoneham said. "However, I have known Bill Dwyer a long time and would not like to do anything prejudicial to his interests. But if there is to be a change I certainly am interested. I sort of like the idea of a team of New York Giants playing on the hockey circuit."

Shenger charged the league had no right to assume the franchise of the Americans despite the club's financial indebtedness to it.

"If the league goes ahead with its plans to sell the team, we will fight the action in the courts," he said.

DUTTON TO CONTINUE
At a torrid session of the league's board of governors here yesterday, the directors declared the American franchise forfeited through failure of the club to comply with the league's demand for payment of the Americans' debt. Manager Mervin "Red" Dutton was named to continue at the helm of the club with President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League acting in an advisory capacity.

Shenger said he had talked to Dwyer, principal owner of the Americans who is in Miami and that Dwyer had already consulted counsel.

"The announcement of the league will make absolutely no difference in our plans," said Shenger. "The team is practicing now and will continue to do so."

Shenger said the club management would take no action until the league actually tried to put the Americans on the ice. The star-spangled pucksters are scheduled to swing into action at Chicago November 7.

Shenger frankly admitted the club was in debt and only to the league but to other sources. It was known the National Hockey League advanced $18,000 to pay players' back salaries last spring and unofficial estimates placed the total debt of the club at around $200,000.

"We are in debt, but we are not being pressed by any creditors except the league," Shenger added. "All the others have agreed to wait."

TRIAL WINNERS RECEIVE CUPS

Presentations Made at Annual Meeting of Victoria Cycling Club

Time trial trophies and certificates were presented to members of the Victoria Cycling Club at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. R. J. C. "Bob" Smith, who acted as chairman in the absence of President A. H. Walker, made the presentations.

John Newman, veteran Saanich rider, received the Ravenhill Trophy and a miniature for winning the fifty-five-mile senior event and Charlie Warren was presented with a silver trophy as runner-up. Roy Duval, winner of the junior event and Eric Whitehead, who finished second, each received cups.

Certificates were presented to the following riders: Eric Whitehead, Roy Duval, Garfield Warren, George Mellor, Keith Rankin, H. Neilson, Bill Oxley, John Newman, Charlie Warren, N. Newman, Ted Whitehead and Ken Sanghera.

The election of officers for the coming season resulted in last year's executive being returned in bloc as follows: President, A. H. Walker; secretary, George W. Robinson; treasurer, Bob Peden; official handicapper, Joe Hancock; C. W. A. official referee, W. E. Stenaland; official timekeepers, Johnny Wenger and Charlie Minor.

George W. Robinson, hard-working secretary was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the splendid way in which he had looked after the work of the club during the past year.

Heavy Hitter Joins Cincinnati Reds

JOE DWYER

DRIVING more than 230 hits in 154 games, Joe Dwyer, left-handed batting outfielder of the Nashville team in the Southern Association, led all the boppers in organized baseball in the number of safe blows. Dwyer who lives in Wilkes-Barre during the off season, is slated to join the Cincinnati Reds in the Spring.

Joe Dwyer, 34, was born in Scotland forty-eight years ago. He came to Vancouver in 1926 from Winnipeg where he was an executive of the Swift Canadian Co. Ltd.

He is survived by his widow and one son Donald here and a brother, Alex, in Nanaimo, B.C.

ICE SQUADS WORKING OUT

National Hockey League Teams Getting Into Shape For Openers

OSHAWA, Ont., Oct. 20.—Learning definitely the National Hockey League had taken over the franchise of their club, New York Americans went through another stiff workout here today, paying little apparent attention to the change in the club's status.

Manager Mervin "Red" Dutton did not comment on the effect, the forfeiture of the franchise to the league would have on his plans for rebuilding the team through signing new players.

He said he had expected the franchise would change, but up until tonight had not been advised of a definite policy for the season.

The line of "Baldy" Cotton, Lloyd Jackson and Harry Oliver was one of the most prominent in action today, the two veteran winners already showing signs of approaching playing condition.

"Red" Doran, Al Murray and Allen Shields, the only three newcomers in camp, all looked good, and if Johnny Gallagher makes the grade when he arrives, Dutton's defence worries should be almost over.

MAROONS PLAY BALL

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—Montreal Maroons varied their training for the National Hockey League battles with a softball game today. Sid Craddock, defenceman from Saskatchewan, reached town about noon and hurried out to the baseball field where Cy Wentworth was acting as catcher and captain of the "East" team.

Gerald Carson took the batting honors with Russ Blinco and Bob Gracie shaping up well in the field.

RANGERS WORK OUT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—Body-checking was a forbidden practice at the New York Ranger training camp today but the National Hockey League will start scrimmaging tomorrow and the railbirds expect some action for apparently the players are in good condition for the early season.

Arrival of Defenceman Ching Johnson today completed Manager Lester Patrick's player roster. The burly Johnson showed bursts of speed in his first time on skates this season but afterwards he exclaimed: "Tired! Tired!"

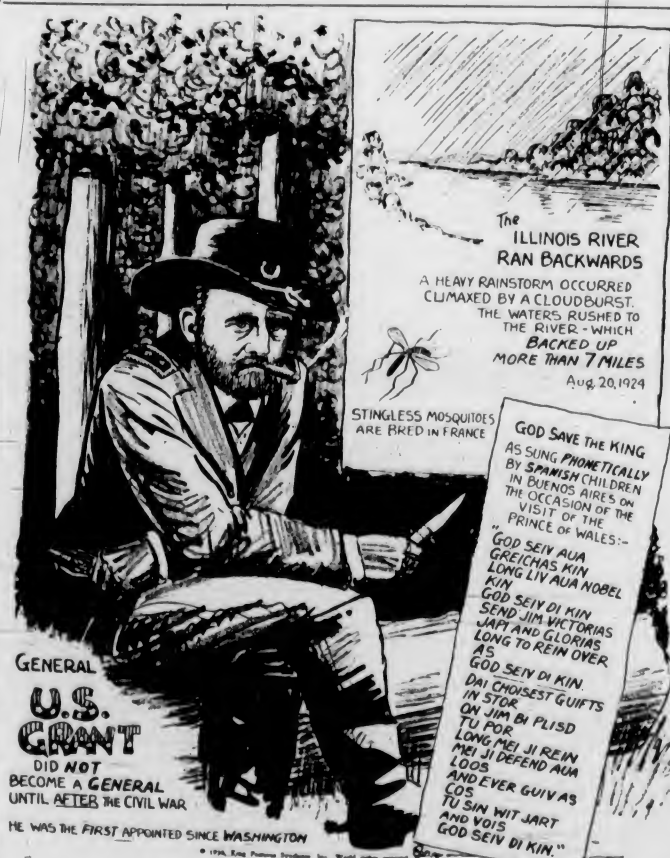

WILL PLAY FOR PRICE TROPHY

Memorial Cup to Be Emblematic of Greater Victoria Championship

Presented to the Victoria and District Football Association to perpetuate the memory of the late Freddie Price, well-known soccer player, the Freddie Price Memorial Trophy will be emblematic of the football championship of Greater Victoria. League officials, named trustees of the handsome cup, reached this decision yesterday.

Football players who played with Price and many of his friends and admirers made the presentation possible by subscribing to a fund built up for the express purpose of buying the trophy. It will be a perpetual challenge cup and can never be won outright. Standing about two feet in height, the trophy

APPROVES DEAL TO AID BRACKEN

Working Agreement Made by Social Credit Members Supported by Party Convention

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20 (AP)—Action of the five Social Credit members-elect of the Manitoba Legislature in forming a working agreement with the Liberal-Progressive Government of Premier John Bracken is approved by the Manitoba Social Credit League, which concluded its inaugural session last night.

Dr. S. W. Fox, House leader, told delegates the provincial election was indecisive and, as matters now stand, Social Crediters hold the balance of power in the Legislature and can work for Social Credit and provide the province with stable government while waiting for the Alberta Government to put Social Credit into effect there.

"We may have to make concessions," he said, "but we shall certainly get concessions in return. Two of our plans, economy in government and lower interest rates, will be carried out and we are going to demand that an economic survey be made of the province."

The survey was of vast importance because it would provide the foundation for Social Credit in Manitoba.

Jane Dixon Says:

JUST ABOUT THE TIME I START TO BECOME DISCOURAGED ABOUT THE UTTER SELFISHNESS OF MEN AND WOMEN, I RECEIVE A LETTER LIKE THE FOLLOWING, WHICH REVIVES FAITH IN THE UNSELFISHNESS OF TRUE LOVE IN A NOBLE HEART

Sometimes, when I have become saturated with the stories of selfishness, of indifference, of cruelty that flow into my mail basket, I become an agnostic on the human heart and ask "Does such a thing as unselfish love really exist?"

Or has all of life become an arena where we descend to the level of beast, scrambling, snatching for our own pleasure and profit regardless of what pain, what loss our singleness of purpose may cause to those who have been turned into the arena with us.

And just when my conclusion is the darkest, along comes a shaft of light to send a glow over the scene and revive faith in the unselfishness of true love in a noble heart.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am very much in love with my friend's sister, who is five years my junior.

I have known the family for years, but not until the past year has the sister appealed to me as she does now.

I have taken her out a few times, but have never told her how I feel about her. We're just being good pals together.

GIRL MUST SEEK WORK

Now she is a high school graduate. There is a large family, so it is necessary for her to look for work.

It has been her ambition to get a position in an office, but she is under twenty-one and has had no experience in office work. Therefore, she would be compelled to accept any type of job offered, which is not very promising for her future.

Do you think it would be wrong of me to ask her to marry me now while she is in a confused state of mind?

There is a possibility that she'll look upon marriage as the only way out of doing work she dislikes, and she might accept me whether she loves me or not, for she knows I can support her and provide a home. I wouldn't want her to regret the marriage later on.

Neither would I want to stand in her way if she would prefer taking a position and working for a while.

HE WANTS TO MAKE HER HAPPY

My purpose is to make her happy, and I'm ready to sacrifice my own wishes and hopes in order to do so.

I'll appreciate any advice you may give me toward this end—J.A.C.

Answer: If the girl loves you and accepts your offer of marriage, she is a very lucky person, because you have the spirit of men who make ideal husbands.

When a young man of your character and forthrightness proposes to a girl, he confers an honor upon her, so you need not hesitate to tell her of your love and your desire to make her your wife.

Explain to her as you have to me, that you appreciate her ambition to be a business woman and that, if it is her wish, you are willing to postpone marriage until she realizes the ambition.

You will know by her answer whether she loves you or merely is tempted to consider you as a convenience. I can't believe that a young man of your excellent character and fine qualifications for marriage could be seriously interested in the sort of girl who would use a husband as a mere ticket or as the "way out" of work however uncongenial it might be.

I hope she chooses marriage in preference to an office position, and that the happiness of the future for both of you will be centered in your home.
